Call for proposal - IAWRT long documentary 2016

Call for proposal - Executive Producer for the long documentary

Dear Members,

IAWRT is hereby seeking applications for the position as Executive Producer for the next IAWRT long documentary.

IAWRT has earlier created two 50 minutes documentaries consisting of short video profiles of 7-9 minutes from different countries on a theme related to women, that have been fused together - Reflecting her (2015) and Hands on: Women. Climate. Change. (2014).

This year, the board proposes the theme "Women making news", using the film lens to focus on the daily struggle female media practitioners experience in the newsrooms, fighting stereotyping etc. This theme is in tune with the vision and ideals of IAWRT. This would also be a continuation of our research in the areas of inequality in the representation of gender in media.

We are keen to experiment with a film format that would enhance this content to its full potential.

Producers with proven track record in leading documentary projects are invited to submit applications for the position asked.

The executive producer will be part of a collaborative process to finalize the theme, choose the format, identify the local directors/producers and lead the project till completion.

The completed film must be submitted by 30th November 2016.

The budget for the entire film currently stands at $ 28 000.

The proposal should include:

- A letter of intent expressing her commitment to the theme
- A detailed proposal and treatment note
- The cv and show reel of the executive producer
- A detailed budget

Deadline for proposals is April 24th, 2016.
