

IAWRT Safety Handbook Conditions of Use

1. At all times the International Association of Women in Radio and Television (IAWRT) retains copyright of IAWRT *What If ... safety Handbook for Women Journalists. All editions are © IAWRT.
2. This booklet may not be used for commercial purposes.
3. The author, editors and original funding organisations, UNESCO Communication and Information Sector and NORSKJOURNALISTLAG (Norwegian Union of Journalists) and FOKUS shall be acknowledged in all editions.
4. Translations to other languages may be organised by IAWRT chapters with the written permission of the author, Abeer Saady and/or the IAWRT International board
5. Translators and additional funders shall be acknowledged in new editions
6. All translated editions shall be made available as a free download from www.iawrt.org
7. IAWRT chapters may print hard copy versions (using versions supplied by IAWRT) funds may be raised through buyers based on a 'not for profit' framework, with any excess funds returned to the local IAWRT chapter.
8. Online users may wish to donate to IAWRT by contacting secretariat@iawrt.org or treasurer@iawrt.org